Day 1: Arrival in Antananarivo On the first day, you will arrive in the capital city of Antananarivo by plane and will be picked up and assisted by us or one of our staff members. Depending on your individual arrival time, a city tour in Antananarivo may be possible afterwards, otherwise you will proceed directly to overnight accommodation at the Villa Sibylle.	 A photograph of a modern outdoor lounge area. The furniture consists of grey wicker armchairs and a matching ottoman, all adorned with bright green cushions. The seating is arranged on a floor made of light blue and white rectangular tiles. The entire area is enclosed within a structure with a blue metal frame and large glass panels, which allows for a clear view of the surrounding lush greenery and trees. A large, dark, sculptural tree trunk is visible through the glass, adding to the natural aesthetic.

Day 2: Antananarivo-Andasibe On the second Day, we head east on the winding but well-maintained RN 2 road early in the morning. Our first stop is at the Madagascar Exotique private reserve, where you can discover numerous reptiles, amphibians, and lemurs. These animals are used to humans and will pose without fear for your cameras. Next, we continue to Moramanga, where you will check into your first night accommodation near the Andasibe National Park. The special highlight: right in the hotel grounds, you may be lucky enough to spot the famous and very rare Indri lemurs, whose unique singing will enchant you. Overnight stay at the "Vakona Lodge" hotel.

Day Description

3. Day: Andasibe National Park

After breakfast, you will depart from the hotel to explore the Andasibe National Park.

Here, you will encounter a spectacular array of wildlife and plant species during a several-hour tour until midday.

Following a brief stop, you will head to the Vakona Zoo, where the Lemur Island awaits. Accessible by boat, this island is home to lemurs that have been released from captivity and are accustomed to human interaction.

As you stroll through the island, interacting with these friendly lemurs, it is recommended to wear clothing that can withstand dirt and stains.

After visiting Lemur Island, you will continue to the nearby forest, where the infamous and rare Fossas as well as crocodiles eagerly await your discovery.

This guided tour is expected to last up to two hours. You will spend the night at the “Vakona

Day 4: Andasibe-Moramanga-Alaotra See

After breakfast, the journey back to Moramanga begins.

You will then follow one of the few railway lines in Madagascar, a remnant of the French colonial era.

The destination is the Alaotra Lake, the largest freshwater lake in Madagascar.

Before reaching there, a small stop will be made in Ambatondrazaka, an important administrative and commercial center in eastern Madagascar.

Here, you can enjoy a delicious lunch before continuing along the southern shore of Lake Alaotra to Andreba.

This small village is off the beaten path and relatively untouched by tourism.

The curiosity of the locals towards visitors is great, providing our travelers with unforgettable experiences.

Day 5: Alaotra See-Imerimandroso-Zahamena National Park

The fifth day of the tour begins with a short excursion before breakfast.

Around five o'clock, you will walk to the shores of Lake Alaotra and board a traditional canoe that will take you to the reed islands on the lake.

The journey lasts about an hour, and once you arrive at the reed islands, you can observe lemurs enjoying their breakfast on the smaller islands from the water.

Upon returning to the camp, a hearty breakfast awaits you to fuel up for the next leg of the journey.

First, you will head to Imerimandroso, a small town with just over 10,000 inhabitants. Here, you can admire some impressive architectural works of the Merina culture and do some last-minute shopping in a traditional store before embarking on a three-day jungle expedition. You will start with a half-hour hike up to Antanandava, where

6. Day: Zahamena National Park

After a restful night in the tent, start your day with a hearty breakfast before heading out for the next tour into the rainforest.

During the hike through the lush greenery, you may encounter various species of animals and plants. Diademed Sifakas, Black Lemurs, and Indri-Indris have been frequently spotted on our tours.

In the early afternoon, you will reach Grande Cascade, a tiered waterfall cascading over 100 meters into the valley.

You will then tackle the ascent right next to the waterfall, conquering the 100 meters in altitude in a little over half an hour.

What awaits you at the top is a breathtaking panoramic view, offering an unforgettable photo opportunity. At this picturesque location far from civilization, you will find the second camp where you will spend the night in a tent and enjoy your

7. Day: Zahamena National Park

After the second night in the tent, start your day with a hearty breakfast before heading to the southeastern part of the Zahamena National Park.

This area is still largely unexplored, giving you the opportunity to experience a truly untouched rainforest up close.

The chance of encountering wild lemurs is particularly high in this part of the National Park.

Despite its remote location, the trails are well-maintained and can be easily navigated with average fitness levels.

The long day trek through the rainforest concludes in the afternoon, followed by dinner and overnight camping in the tent.

Day 16: Antananarivo and Surroundings

On the 16th and final day of your tour through Madagascar, the focus is on the capital city of Antananarivo and its nearby surroundings.

In Antananarivo, you can visit the famous Lemurs Park, where you can once again experience the unique animals up close.

Alternatively, you may choose to explore Ambohimanga, the former royal palace of the Merina people, with its impressive fortifications and royal tombs. Ambohimanga is still considered the spiritual center of the Merina people and has been classified as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. If you are interested in both nature and cultural landmarks, this is an opportunity not to be missed.

After an exciting day in Antananarivo, enjoy dinner at Hotel Villa Sibylle followed by a transfer to Ivato Airport.
